

This is a science fiction story based on modern quantum theory. It is not just a story but will contain simple explanations of what is happening on the quantum level as they relate to science and interconnection with religious ideas. It occurs in a small mountain town where life is simple and uncomplicated. Things change when an accident changes everyone's ideas of their existence and place in the universe. Education, romance, intrigue, deceit, and enlightenment will challenge your ideas of reality.